

An original and quirky venue

Segedunum Roman Fort stands as a lasting testimony to the awesome power of the Roman Empire. It was the last link in the chain of fortifications which stretched across the country and formed the mighty boundary of Hadrian's Wall.

For almost 300 years Segedunum, which means 'strong fort' was home to 600 Roman Soldiers. Today Segedunum is once again the gateway to this famous world heritage site. Guests can enjoy the modern visitor centre with interactive computer simulations and view the remains of the Fort from the viewing tower.

VENUE HIRE

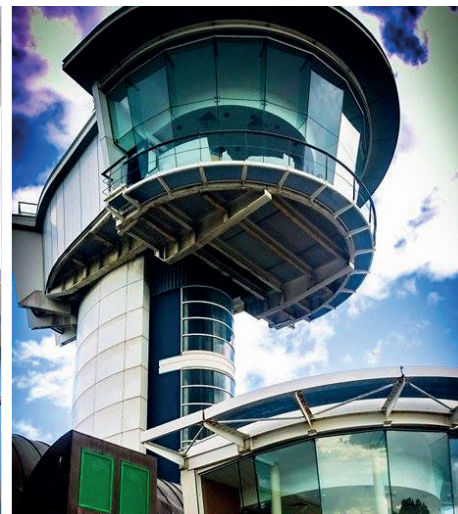

The museum has a self-contained function suite, with contemporary facilities and easy access to the rest of the museum.

The Daniels Room is a flexible space, popular for training sessions and workshops. It also has an attached syndicate room, ideal for use as a breakout space or for catering.

The Corder Room is ideal for board meetings, interviews or away days, and has the advantage of some remarkable views of the Fort and River Tyne.

The 35m viewing tower with tiered seating can be hired for smaller evening bookings, providing spectacular views across the River Tyne. Guided tours and expert lectures can be arranged on request.

CAPACITIES

	Theatre	Boardroom	Dinner	Reception
Daniels Room	50	30	30	80
Corder Room	25	15	15	30
Roman Gallery			60
Whole Museum				400
35m Viewing Tower		25

Facilities include:

- Projectors
- Flipcharts
- TV, DVD and video
- PA system
- Free entry to the museum for all delegates

There is plenty of free parking onsite at the museum. Guided tours can be arranged on request.

Catering

We can provide event catering including buffets, conference catering and drinks. Catering at Segedunum is managed by Evan's on the Wall.

Contact details

Segedunum Roman Fort, Baths and Museum Buddle Street, Wallsend, NE28 6HR

Telephone: (0191) 278 4217

Email: liz.elliott@twmuseums.org.uk

www.segedunumromanfort.org.uk